

MOTIVATION ATLET PELATNAS PARALYMPIC INDONESIAN ATHLETIC BRANCH POST-EXPERIENCED INJURIES

ABSTRACT

This thesis research is aimed to know the motivational condition of athletes Pelatnas Paralympic Indonesia athletic branch post injury based on 6 aspects of sports motivation that is Ammotivation, External Regulation, Introjected Regulation, Identified Regulation, Integrated Regulation and Intrinsic Motivation. This thesis research also aims to inform sports practitioners that there are other things that must be considered in addition to the physical condition of post-injury. This thesis research was conducted at Syariah Lor in hotel and Sriwedari stadium of Solo city on 9 to 13 June 2017. Technique of data retrieval in this research using total sampling which amounted to 44 people with the subject is Pelatnas Paralympic Indonesia athletes who have experienced injury. The analysis technique used is PRESENTASE. Data collection techniques using ANGKET. The result of the research shows that in Amotivation aspect the majority have low value with percentage of 52.28% and with average value 8.75. In the aspect of External Regulation, the majority has a high score with a percentage of 56.82% and with an average rating of 14.18. In the aspect of Introjected Regulation, the majority has a high score with a percentage of 65.9% and with an average rating of 16.4. In the aspect of Identified Regulation, the majority has a high score with a percentage of 81.82% and with an average rating of 16.77. In the aspect of Integrated Regulation, the majority has a high score with a percentage of 88.64% and with an average rating of 16.65. In the aspect of Intrinsic Motivation, the majority has a high score with a percentage of 84.1% and with an average rating of 16.7