ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First of all, the writer would like to say her gratefulness to God Almighty, Allah SWT for all His countless blessings that keep her fighting to finish this thesis. The completion of this undertaking thesis could not have been possible without the participation and assistance of so many people whose names may not all be written here. Their contributions are sincerely appreciated and gratefully acknowledged. However, the writer would like to express her deepest thankfulness to her family: Ayah, Mama, Mas Hilmy, and Zahra. Their love and support have been the biggest motivation to strive even more.

The writer also wants to express her gratitude to her supervisor, Mrs. Eva Leiliyanti, Ph.D. Thank you, ma'am, for your time, patience, shared-knowledge, and kindness. Thank you for giving her many valuable lessons in conducting research. May Allah bless you with health and happiness all your life.

Her gratitude also goes to Uh Lala Land: Hana, Azari, Sekti, Afriana, Dyah, Eva, Deni, and Iman. Thank you for becoming the writer's genuine friends in her college life. Especially, Hana who has been dear to her since day one of college. Thank you for all of the shared laughter and tears. The writer hopes that this friendship will last forever.

The writer is grateful for the presence of Nabilah, Nanda, and Tara whose have been friend with her since high school. Thank you for being a very devoted friend to the writer.

Last but not least, to her class, 14SB and English Department of UNJ. Thank you for all of the shared memories.

Do not underestimate your work, and do not waste your time.
Do your best, but do not complicate it.
