

ABSTRACT

Anggun Pretty. Community Based Education of The Urban Poor (Case Study: Kalimalang Literary of Community, Bekasi, West Java). Thesis Sociology Education Faculty of Social Sciene. State University of Jakarta, 2017.

The research of community based education which was idea from Kalimalang Literary of Community for student drop out or street children in Bekasi to purpose was identify about community based education of the urban poor. This research was identify how application of community based education for student drop out or street children in Kalimalang Literary of Community and how to learning impact in Kalimalang Literary of Community. Writer using three conceptual framework that is Community, Informal Education, and the Urban Poor.

The writer using qualitative descriptive apporoach with case study method. The research location in East Bekasi with research time from September 2016 until March 2017. The data technique by observation, interview, literature sudy and documentation study to describe content of the research. The deep interview with two key informant as community's founder. The other informant with three person as management's community, volunteer as the teacher, and student drop out or street children. The informant on the research are five person.

The result in this study was community based education of the urban poor as one of model learning application which has big contribution to do learning process release to increase of education quality for student drop out or street children. Application method of community based education also to supporting condition effort for student drop out or street children was be taught in Kalimalang Literary of Community. This research to signify that application of community based education of the urban poor can be able increase education quality according to daily student condition especially for student drop out or street children in the development of self potential, creativities, independence in student self as fund life necessities in the future. At a time to be impact in learning application of community also reflectional community based education for Kalimalang Literary of Community student drop out or street children.

Keywords : Community, Community Based Education, The Urban Poor