

ABSTRACT

Qiladah Yauza. 2017. The Representation of Feminine Leadership towards Postmodern Feminism in The Host Novel by Stephenie Meyer. English Literature Study Program, Faculty of Language and Arts, State University of Jakarta.

The Host novel by Stephenie Meyer is chosen because the novel examines the woman leader character much more than others that make it easier to get the data about feminine leadership in the postmodern era. In alignment, this study examines on how The Host novel represent the feminine leadership issue in the postmodern feminism era. This research aims to analyze feminine leadership towards postmodern feminism of The Seeker Woman character. The Seeker Woman is the woman leader of The Seeker in The Host novel. The analysis uses postmodern feminism by Judith Butler and representation concept by Stuart Hall. The method that used in this research is descriptive interpretative analytical study. The results of this research are, first, the most dominant aspect of feminine leadership in The Seeker Woman character is empathy. Second, the most dominant aspects of postmodern feminism in The Seeker Woman character are oppression and freedom aspect.

Keywords: The Host, Stephenie Meyer, feminine leadership, postmodern feminism, Judith Butler.