

ABSTRACT

Kurnia Putri Pertiwi. 2017. The effectiveness of cooperative learning in Bamboo dancing strategy toward japanesse learning (experimental research toward students of grade tenth in management office at SMK Wijaya Kusuma Lenteng Agung).

Japanese Language is one of foreigner language that has been taught in Vocational School or Senior high School in Indonesia. The material that is taught are grammer and alphabet. But, the teaching learning process in every teacher is different, so some of the students don't understand at all with the previous material but they are given other materials. So a strategy is needed to improve teaching learning Japanese in SMK/SMA, one of that strategy is Bamboo Dancing.

Bamboo Dancing Strategy is a part of cooperative learning strategy. Because of this strategy has some advantages like improving students' motivation and team work. So, students will be able to share their knowledge about the material that have been taught to their friends.

The purposes of this research are (1) to know the effectiveness of teaching learning japanesse (reading, writing, observing, speaking) before using bamboo dancing strategy and dfter using bamboo dancing strategy. (2) to know the students responses toward cooperative learning using bamboo strategy in teaching learning japanesse. The method that was experimental One-Group Pretest-Posttest Design.

The sample of this research was 30 students in grade tenth of management office at SMK Wijaya Kusuma Lenteng Agung. The rinstruments of this study are speaking test and writing test. Based on the data analysis, it can be conclude that there is differentiate between the sum of pretes result, it is 69 and the sum of post test result, that is 78,5, so the difference of the sum is 9.5. The result for this research depend on significance level 5% with the tolerance = 58 for $t_{table} 2,00$. from the result of $t_{account} 4,52$ it means the value of $t_{account}$ more than t_{table} ($t_{hitung} > t_{tabel}$), so accepted H_K and rejected H_O . It can be conclude that the implementation of coperative learning in bamboo dancing strategy is effective in teaching learning japanesse.
