

ABSTRACT

JUSTAYUSTARNO 6815107915 “The Influence of Outbound Activities On Leadership Values in Students Joining Scout Extracurricular at SD Negeri 06 Pagi Jakarta”. The Thesis of Sport Recreation Study Program, Faculty of Sport, Universitas Negeri Jakarta, July 2017.

This thesis research is to find out the influence of outbound activities on leadership values in students joining scout at SD Negeri 06 Pagi Jakarta. The method used is pre-experiment, using One Group Pretest-Posttest Design. The research is carried out at SD Negeri 06 Pagi Jakarta for 3 months since May until July 2017.

The sampling technique uses purposive sampling, for 20 students of 61 students. The research instrument uses questionnaire with statement to analyze students' leadership value. Data analysis technique uses t-test by calculating the value of t_{count} compared with t_{table} on degree of freedom $n-1$ and significance level 0.05.

The result of the first test of data analysis and the final test of students' leadership values were analyzed using t-test. Based on the result, it's obtained t_{count} of 9.5. Further tested using t_{table} on confidence level $\alpha = 0.05$ and degree of freedom $n-1 = 20 - 1 = 19$, obtained the value of t_{table} is 2.045. So, $t_{count} > t_{table}$ or $9.5 > 2.045$.

Based on the result of research by the writer, it states that outbound activities give positive influence on leadership values in students joining scout at SD Negeri 06 Pagi Jakarta.