

ABSTRACT

Saadah, "The analysis of The Success of Techniques to Beating An Opponent Jakarta Men's Indoor Hockey Team at Singapore Indoor Hockey Challenge 2015", Thesis. Jakarta: Sport Education, Faculty of Sport Science, State University of Jakarta, in January 2015.

This study aimed to meet the analytical technique's success past your opponent (Beating An Opponent) men's hockey team at the Singapore Indoor Hockey Challenge in 2015. This study was conducted on October 22 to October 25, 2015.

That is housed in Yishun Sports Hall, Singapore. Retrieving data using the descriptive method to record the occurrence of direct observation using blank forms that contain columns and rows of a table to observe the four types of skills past your opponent (Beating An Opponent) which left Pulling Skills, Pulling right, Spinning left, dab Spin to the right. The population of these researchers is the men's team FHI Jakarta (Hockey Federation Indonesia) during the game, The data-processing technique used is to calculate the average and calculate the percentage of each of the techniques used then the failure and success of past opponents (Beating An Opponent) respectively analyzed using SWOT analysis.

Of the study's data: the overall number of activities past the opponent's skills (Beating An Opponent) Jakarta FHI men's team in the Singapore Indoor Hockey Challenge 2015 is 288 past your opponent (Beating An Opponent). With the successful activities of past opponents 202 times with a percentage of 70% and activity past your opponent fails 86 times with a percentage of 30%.