

ABSTRAK

"Evaluation of Traditional Sports Community Work Program Indonesia (KOTI) 2015 in Jakarta".

Thesis, Jakarta, Recreational Sports, Faculty Of Sport Science, State University Of Jakarta, In 2016

The purpose of this study was to determine the program of activities Koti 2015 in Jakarta in achieving its goals. This evaluation study using a method of evaluation with model approach to context, Input, Process, Product (CIPP). This research was conducted in Koti sekretariat office in Jakarta which is located at JL. Bogor Raya Blok B.7 Gor Ciracas Sekretariat Koti-East Jakarta. On June 30-July 2, 2016. The method used is the "Observations, questionnaires and interviews". Subject researchers are members consist of a chairman Koti Koti Koti activities and field coordinator. Data analysis technique used is descriptive qualitative, ie describe and interpret the data from each component is evaluated. Based on the results of data processing, this research can be concluded that KOTI work program has been implemented in accordance with the planning of the work program which has been planned even though there is still work programs have not been implemented. From the results of the evaluation of the data obtained as follows: 1) The context of the work program Koti 2015 in Jakarta that the background for the holding of the work program is to develop the traditional game and can dipertahankan back by the Indonesian people in various circles and that traditional games are not spared from the times. 2) Input from Koti work program includes the infrastructure is adequate. 3) The process of implementation of the work program Koti in 2015 against the society that is so that people can know the role of the work program KOTI, can preserve cultural values, noble, and traditions and environment of the community and of the development of this traditional game can create a friendship, tolerance, communication kinship, harmony and togetherness of Indonesian society. 4) The product of a working implementation manager Koti is already well underway, but there are still obstacles in the activities, but they can be overcome with good.