

Students Participation to The Activity of Study in PKBM Pandu Pelajar
Mandiri Lembaga Pemasyarakatan Narkotika Klas IIA Cipinang, East
Jakarta
(2013)

Devira Prastiwi

ABSTRACT

The purpose of this research are to obtain empirical data of participation in the learning process and life skill activities also the extent of Students Participation to The Activity in PKBM Pandu Pelajar Mandiri, so from this study will produce the responsibility student from the early learning until the end of lessons (State Education Equivalency Exam) by getting a certification appropriate to their selection Package. Same with the life skills activities, start from the first step to make something until can produce a masterpiece. This research uses survey with a population of 40 people who all serve as the object of research. Because the research subject is less than 100 people, then the whole of the research subject were taken to be the research object so that this research is a population. Data collections using a questionnaire to see the students participation in learning process and life skill activities. The results of this research shows that increased levels of attendance and the participation are given participant in the form of thought, energy, expertise, and participation the form of goods. The conclusion of this research can be obtained that the students can learn directly involved activities implemented by participacing in the learning process and the life skill activities to the achievement of results the package can be achieved in accordance with the wishes of the student wanted.

Keyword: Students participation to the activity of study.