

Attitudes, graduation and engagement used in these texts are to emphasize the subjectiveness of the writer toward the texts.

5.2 Recommendation

Media as one of the field in literature can be analyzed by English Department. There are many things which can be analyzed both mass media or social media. There are also many hot issue or hot topic can be analyzed using linguistic theory. The one of theory that can be use is appraisal analysis even the references about appraisal theory in the library hard to find.

Appraisal theory is very helpful in understanding language used in the text especially the attitude and the perception the writer about something, the researcher recommends the other researcher to make more analysis about this theory, so you have to broaden information about this theory by exploring other references such as books, journals and websites which are relevant and reliable to support the research.
