ABSTRACT

Fina Aufar Laela Ibrahim, 2018. Building Character of Altruism Praxis in English Teaching and Learning in MAN Karawang

This study aimed at investigating the altruism praxis in English teaching and learning in Senior High School. This study was conducted in MAN Karawang. The data in this study were the occurence of altruism aspects in four components of altruism praxis: classroom activities; school activities; school members` interaction; school environment. This study employed three instruments in collecting data, namely observation, interview and audiovisual materials. This study revealed that three aspects of altruism, empathy; prosocial behavior and aversive-arousal reduction appeared in English teaching and learning. In other words, it can be concluded that MAN Karawang has contributed in altruism praxis in English teaching and learning.
